5 Project Overview

The Labour Market Information System (LMIS) is a job matching facility operated by the Government of Jamaica through the Ministry of Labour and Social Security. The main objective of the LMIS is to facilitate access to employment opportunities for all Jamaicans. This is achieved by:

1. Creating avenues through which one can access employment opportunities
2. Bringing qualified Jobseekers to the Employers.
3. Providing information on where to locate jobs through labour market intelligence. This information assists curriculum planners and developers to know exactly where there is an oversupply of skills or undersupply and who in turn plan their programmes based on the demand.
4. Encourage employers to provide information for LMI.
5. Provide Jobseekers with information to assist with job readiness sessions and consultations.

The LMIS is also a database of qualitative and quantitative information. The information is collected from a number of labour market information producers and disseminated via its web site in order to improve access to said statistical information.

The LMIS has three components, namely: the Electronic Labour Exchange, the Skills Bank, and Labour Market Intelligence.

The Electronic Labour Exchange (ELE):

As the core component of the LMIS, the ELE facilitates the matching of job seekers with employers. The services are available both on-line and off-line.

On-line Services for Job-seekers:

1. Tips on résumé writing, preparing for interviews and job search technique
2. Create résumés
3. Job search
4. Email notification from employers about job interviews.

Off-line Services for Job-seekers:

1. Computer facilities to post résumés and conduct job search
2. Referral to other institutions
3. Presentations/workshops on topics such as labour market trends and workplace readiness
4. Entrepreneurship workshops which expose ELE clients to income generating skills which are easily learnt e.g. floral arrangement, sewing and making gift baskets
5. Career development activities for secondary schools

On-line Services for Employers:

1. Posting job vacancies
2. Access to a database of skilled workers
3. Search for and selection of candidates

Off-line Services for Employers:

1. Interview and short listing of candidates for employers
2. Guidance to employers on how to post job vacancies
3. Posting vacancies for employers
4. Conference room facility at the Ministry's North Street office which may be used by employers to conduct interviews.

Skills Bank:

The Skills Bank is a database of Jamaicans with certified skills. Qualified persons are encouraged to register on-line so that employers can access workers with the required competencies. It is hoped that the database will provide information which can be used to help determine the supply of and demand for labour, shortages and trends, as well as facilitate occupational projections.

Labour Market Intelligence:

This is a combination of current and historical data on the local economy, population and labour market. It also includes information on training opportunities for the youth, sources of funding for education, the most frequently advertised jobs (hottest jobs) and summaries of labour market research conducted by MLSS. The LMIS has assisted hundreds of persons to gain employment. It is designed to create an environment in which decisions by individuals in the labour market are based on reliable information. This should translate into an efficiently functioning labour market with less mismatch between the skills that job seekers are offering and those required by employers.

2. Creation of Mobile App.

7 Key Assumptions and Constraints

#	Assumptions

2.	It is assumed that all résumés for Jobseekers will be entered into the system.
#	Constraints
1.	The internet service plays an integral role in the operations of the LMIS and as such this essential service is required to grant online users access to the LMIS website.
